The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Welfare Encourages Fraud

The welfare coffers are being depleted — illegally — from both inside and outside the system.

In New York, for instance, a Brooklyn man was arrested on charges of defrauding the city's Social Services Department of more than $33,000 by receiving public assistance checks under 11 aliases. The game was finally up when he picked up a check under one of his aliases and was recognized by a clerk who knew him by another name.

On the other side, an employee of the welfare branch of the Washington, D.C. Department of Human Resources was charged with cheating the city out of $40,000 in welfare payments over a four year period.

Federal prosecutors called her "The Queen of Welfare Fraud" after she created a name, an entire file and then closed it in every department except payroll.

After that, she simply collected the checks.

And now, the Food Stamp Program which carries a minimum amount of control, is to be controlled even less.

It is proposed that stamp "clients" will no longer have to suffer the humiliation of exchanging stamps for comestibles (not accepted for booze and tobacco). It is planned to give cash instead.

At least the cost of printing the stamps will be saved.

U.S. System Proven Best

"Millions are alive, and living longer, because of medicine developed under capitalism. Without our psychic energy, productivity and invention, oil would still by lying under Saudi Arabia, undiscovered, unpumped and useless.

"Coffee, bananas, tin, sugar and other items of trade would have no markets. Capitalism has made the world rich, inventing riches other populations didn't know they had.

"Six per cent of the world's population consumes, they say, 40 per cent of the world's goods. The same six per cent produces more than 50 per cent; far more than it can consume.

"No other system can make such a statement, even in lands more populous, older and richer than our own."

LIAISON MAN — Tom Parks has been loaned to the coming city of Lemon Grove by the county board of supervisors to aid in the orderly transition from a community to a city. Parks will meet and greet all citizens and advise the city council until the changeover is complete. His office is open on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the L.G. Fire Station.

Well Filled Agenda Readied For Council Meeting Tonight

It's town meeting time again tonight at 8.

The members who are to become the initial councilmen of the city on July 1 will listen to a well-filled agenda.

They may advise the county board of supervisors but they cannot conduct business officially until the community becomes a city.

The agenda, supplied by Tom Parks, liaison between the Lemon Grove Council and the Supervisors includes:

A report by Dr. Robert Burns who was appointed to meet with the L.G. Recreation Assn. to discuss such matters as park fencing, schoolgrounds lighting, youth center sunshades and aid for the aquatic program.

The county has $65,000 available for such uses.

Jack Doherty will report on a growth management meeting he attended in El Cajon and he will present a request from a citizen for a special use permit for the Cresta Loma convalescent home on Palm st. The council will give its determination to the supervisors.

James Dorman will ask the council to discuss specs for a city clerk-treasurer — one of the first people needed to help the city get started.

Parks said the meeting on May 19 would be sort of "all-star." County Dept. of Transportation will discuss street maintenance; Land Use and Environmental Regulation will discuss land use, and Environmental Analysis Agency will talk about matter within its purview.

Meetings are at the L.G. Fire Station on alternate Thursdays and all meetings are open to the public.

Cue Sticks, $100 Bill Part of Burglar's Loot

The thief got in by cutting a window screen to Kurtis Alan Kaster's recreation room, and leaving with cue sticks, pool balls, a radio, a watch and $110 of which one note was $100 bill which had been carefully hidden in a pen-set box.

Kaster, who lives at 8215 Dorchester st., Spring Valley was away from home on March 26 when the loss occurred.

A pistol and a shotgun in his bedroom were not taken.

'Letter of the Law' Weapon In Deputies Pay Scale Fight

By Max Goodwin

When San Diego County Sheriff's Deputies began observing "the letter of the law" this week in their daily operation of policies and procedures, the County Board of Supervisors began to listen.

A meeting has been called for Tuesday by board chairman Jim Bates at which salaries of the sheriff's men will be examine—"in good faith", it is hoped.

Deputies "letter of the law" operation had begun to bite into the county bankroll.

Minimum standards established for safety have long been disregarded by officers. "Letter of the law" operation, according to personnel of the Lemon Grove office of the Sheriff's Department, will require men on overtime to fill the void as more time is spent on reports and investigations.

For example—moving prisoners in jail. Standards call for a man for every prisoners. Prior to the salary crisis, one man moved 25-30 men. "Letter of the law" means it will take 10 men, or one man ten times as long. 1 for 3 was set to reduce the hazard but men gathered a larger herd in the interest of getting the job done, it was explained.

Core of the problem is the S.D. Sheriff's Assn's complaint that supervisors would not bargain in good faith.

Sheriff's deputies note they've had no raises in two years and that they are the poorest paid peace officers of 11 jurisdictions in S.D. county.

They also complain that they are understaffed by a third in comparison with other jurisdictions. The Sheriff's department has .8 men for each 1,000 citizens and that becomes even lower because many deputies are assigned to posts other than crime suppression, they claim. The national average is 2. for each 1,000. Other county jurisdictions average 1.5

The Assn. is negotiating (whenever the board permits) for 1976-'77. Deputies say they were offered 1.15 per cent raise for '76-'77 and 6.8 for '77-'78. A two-year average would make it 4 per cent, (14 months of increase for a 24 month period).

Deputies are asking an 18 per cent increase for '76-77 and 10 per cent addition for 77-78. If they achieve 28.8 per cent their wages would be comparable to other jurisdictions, they pointed out.

Eight deputies told this publication Tuesday that the in-

Historical Booklet For City Inaugural

The Inauguration Committee for the New City of Lemon Grove is planning a program built around the first official meeting of the first city council. It will be distributed July 1.

The program will be a historical booklet — a souvenir commemorating the historical event. It offers citizens a chance to have their names listed in it.

Those who wish their names included should call Lois Heiserman at 466-1043 or Bob Holaday at 469-7895.

The ceremony is scheduled for the L.G. Junior High school starting at 8 p.m. July 1.

A charge will be made for name listing. Proceeds will help defray the cost of the inaugural ceremony.

Upgrading Seen By Grove CoC

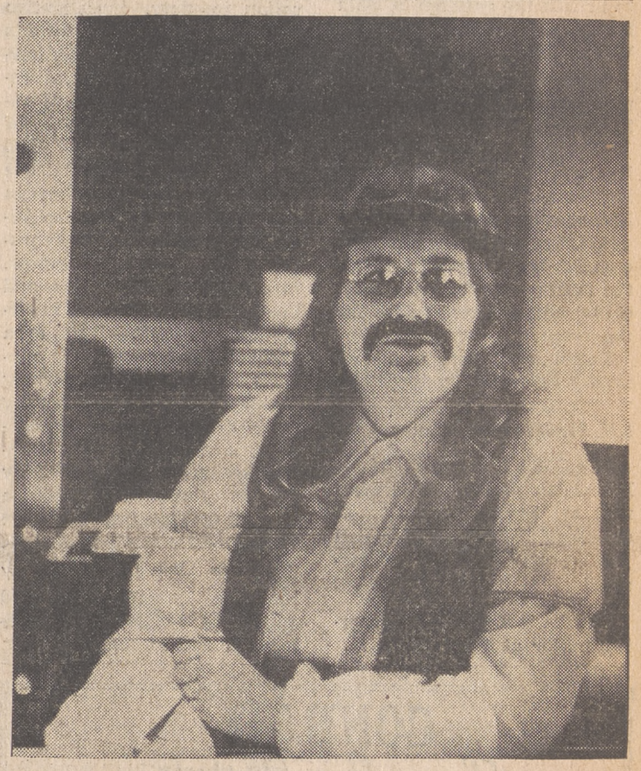
One of the first problems to be resolved by the newly elected officers of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce was the situation of a CoC director holding another elective office.

Dell Lake, long time official of the chamber had been elected to the L.G. City council. CoC by-laws say it shouldn't be done. The solution was simple — change the by-laws. Lake, who has also served well on the L.G. Fire board, is now free to serve the city and the chamber. The vote was unanimous.

The chamber seems determined to become more businesslike. New president Dr. Griff Clark gave each of his several committee chairmen an opportunity to describe his program. Their reports suggest this may be the most active year yet.

An office operation manual is being developed by veep Olin Thompson and will soon be operative. Already, other area chambers have heard about it and have requested copies.

Also, approximately 75 residents have entered the logo contest.



BEST DRESSED — Sharon Stone, an employee of California First Bank, 3285 Imperial ave., took honors last Friday as the best dressed in the Lemon Grove Old Time Days businessmen's dress up competition. Cal First also took overall honors in the contest.

Watch Your Speed

Enforcement of 55 MPH Limit Becomes Stronger

The California Highway Patrol is taking an extremely high interest in the 55 MPH speed limit these days.

The law is 55 miles an hour and that doesn't mean 60. CHP officers are told to enforce it.

The reasons for 55 miles an hour are many, but there is an obstacle to obeying the speed limit which often propels the would-be 55-miler into higher, law-breaking speeds. It's the tailgater. Subconsciously, drivers usually speed up when another auto is trying to creep up their tailpipe.

The slow driver was committing the offense to impeding traffic in years past.

"No longer so," says CHP officer Dan Martin, who handles the public relations for Capt. C. M. Douglas' east San Diego area.

"The law says 55 MPH and

S.V. Weed Abatement Program Starts Mon.

It's fire season in Spring Valley.

The weather is warming and the grass, brush and weeds are dry; ready for ignition with the possible destruction of property and loss of life.

Inspector Rick Sherard of the Spring Valley Fire Department said steps taken now may eliminate many fires that might otherwise occur.

An important step is a stringent program of weed abatement that will go into effect Monday.

The program is designed to detect and correct fire hazards which presently exist. Property, private and public, which is found to create a hazard will be researched for proper ownership, and a violation notice will be sent to the owner with a date for reinspection attached.

Success of a program of this nature depends not solely on the inspector but equally on the attitude and cooperation of the public. Each citizen can protect himself and his property by eliminating accumulations of debris, weeds, grass, and trash.

Any information that will help this be a safe summer season may be directed to Fire Inspector Sherard at 905 Gillespie dr., Spring Valley, or by calling 463-0209.

Weeds Near Fire Hazard Alert Time

It's annual inspection week again at the Lemon Grove Fire Department.

According to Fire Marshal John Ott the subject is weed hazards.

Weeds can become a fire hazard to the neighbors property at well as the owners and to reduce such a possibility men of the Department are around making their annual inspection.

Those owners having lots that, in the opinion of the marshal, are hazardous, will receive a notice of abatement.

After a reasonable time has elapsed, a re-examination will be conducted.

Those lots that do not conform to requirements at that time will be target for further action at the order of the Fire Deparment Board of Directors.

Takes Tires, Leaves ID

Two black males driving a 1974 Chevy, drove into Dorman's Auto Supply, at 6925 Federal blvd. about 5 p.m. and instructed an employee to replace two tires on the car.

They departed without paying according to the employee but the license of their car had been listed on the tire order.

What is a City?

Functions of Government . . . Part 1

This is one of a continuing series of informational articles on the makeup of a city. The material was distributed by the League of California Cities.

This section on government functions is lengthy—so it will be presented in more than one part.

The Function

A primary reason for the existence of a municipal government today is to provide such services to the taxpayer as the taxpayers cannot (for financial, functional or other reasons) or will not provide for themselves.

A number of services might be provided by municipal government might be performed by the property owner, but only at considerable expense or inconvenience.

To provide desired services, municipal governments are organized into various departments, each responsible for a specific function. For example:

BUILDING DEPARTMENT

The Building Department is responsible for the enforcement of minimum standards, regulating building construction, electrical, plumbing, and sewer installations on private property. Its purpose in enforcing these minimum standards is to safeguard life and limb, health, property and public welfare through the regulation and control of designed construction, quality of materials, use occupancy, location and the maintenance of all buildings and structures within the city limits.

The Building Department usually assists the license division in enforcement of business licenses, enforcing the zoning ordinance and cooperating with other departments to secure code requirements in the issuance of building permits.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

This department is responsible for planning and directing the fiscal operations of municipal government. This department works closely with the city manager, keeping him informed of the financial picture relating to revenues, investments and expenditures.

Generally, most Finance Departments are broken down into accounting, purchasing and licensing. It is also responsible for the preparation of payrolls, administration of employes' retirement program, and processing of information for the municipal data processing program.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

Lemon Grove is fortunate that it had a good fire protection district prior to incorporation. The Lemon Grove Fire Department will continue to operate smoothly as before but under the direction of the city council. Fortunately, too, is the fact that the three fire directors have been elected city councimen. Thus continuity of outstanding protection is assured.

NEXT: PARKS, PLANNING, POLICE AND OTHERS.

GROTTO DEDICATION — The Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Kearney, pastor of St. John of the Cross Catholic Church in Lemon Grove, places a wreath on the statue of Mary last Monday as part of a dedication service of the grotto memorial to the late Rev. Msgr. John W. McDonagh.
The grotto is a replica of the grotto of Lourdes, France, and the bronze plaque bearing Rev. Msgr. McDonagh's name was donated by Court Teresa of Avila, Catholic Daughters of America.
Some 40 members of the St. John of the Cross Women's Club attended the service.

Pancake Breakfast to Aid Slain Officer's Children

Hudson and Bauer, a morning comedy personality team on radio KFMB and the Fraternal Order of Police, have organized a pancake breakfast to benefit the children of slain S.D. police office Dennis Wraye Allen.

Allen was the first policeman to die in the line of duty in 7 years.

The pancake breakfast will be 7 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday with KFMB personalities, S.D. police, sports person—

S.D. County McDonald's Operators' Assn. is furnishing all the pancakes, butter, milk, coffee and assorted juices for the event.

Patrolman Allen, who was fatally wounded April 2, joined the San Diego Police Department on August 12, 1966.

Officer Allen had received 4 SDPD commendations: October 1973, for alertness, devotion to duty, investigative and leadership ability for his arrest of an Ocean Beach burglary suspect, an arrest resulting in the recovery of approximately $2,000 worth of stolen property; October 1973 for thoroughness, persistence and investigative know-how in arresting a Southeast San Diego narcotics suspect; February, 1974 for high job interest, teamwork, thoroughness and investigative know-how in arresting a Golden Hills area suspect being sought for robbery, kidnapping and driving a stolen vehicle; and January 28, 1975 for his beat knowledge, interrogative ability, initiative and devotion to duty for his efforts in arresting a suspect who confessed to nine vehicle thefts totalling $50,000.

Officer Allen is survived by his wife, Priscilla Jean, and daughters Jennifer, 13; Hillary, 9; and Meredith, 7.

There's An Answer

By Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

Right Triangle Hypoto-noose

Q. I'm 20, never been married, but I have a little boy. I've been dating a man for six months now. But here's the problem. He's been divorced for about a year and a half, and now that we're getting serious about each other, his ex-wife came back to live with him.

She wants to get back together with him. He says he can never take her back but needs time to tell her he doesn't want her.

He won't let me call the house because he doesn't want her to know about us.

He says he doesn't want to lose me and God knows I can't or don't want to ever lose him. I love him, and I don't know how long I can go on like this. What else can I say or do to tell him it's either her or me, now or never?

A. If this man hasn't got what it takes to tell his ex-wife that he doesn't want her, it probably means that he is not sure that he doesn't want her. He doesn't need any time to tell her. All of which indicates that he likely does want to take her back — or that he really doesn't know what he wants at all.

You might be better off to let this indecisive man go, and look for a good, steady man who will know for sure that he loves you.

Mytardom

Q. I am among the unemployed.

We could never be sure of receiving our checks on time in my former job so I began to complain that this was unjust.

Due to this I have been discharged.

I don't regret speaking up for others as well as myself, but nonetheless this is hard to understand.

The boss had to admit I was a good worker. I had been on the job over three years. This makes me feel worthless. What can I do?

A. It just could be that even though you are a good worker, perhaps you are what people call difficult. Employers are not inclined to continue with anyone.. who.. rightly or wrongly is considered a trouble-maker. Perhaps there was a legitimate reason why the paychecks were delayed. Could it be the company just didn't have the money at the time?

We suggest that on your next job you consciously examine your spirit to eliminate any irritating factors you may possess. Of course you are not worthless, so stop feeling that you are.

Perhaps you would like to find an answer for yourself to a problem that you can share with others in THERE'S AN ANSWER! If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Heartland Church Women Meet For May Fellowship Day

The Church Women United of the Lemon Grove Congregational United Church of Christ host women from 13 other churches in the Heartland area for May Fellowship Day tomorrow at 10 a.m.

May Fellowship Day has traditionally been celebrated by the church women in the East County area on the first Friday in May. Since its initiation in 1933, the gathering has emphasized the creative and healing relations.

The theme of this year's service is "Gifts to Claim" and carries the message of "freedom to choose".

"Out of the countless gifts of God," said the Women in a joint communique, "this May Fellowship Day celebration centers on three: the gift of extravagance which is part of God's grace, the gift that enables us to risk vulnerability which is part of God's gift of faith, and the gift of mutuality which is part of God's love."

Participating in the program will be Mrs. Thelma Lewis, the president of the Heartland Church Women United; Mrs. Martha Vickers, moderator; the Rev. Fred Bradley; and Key-Woman, Mrs. Martha Collett.

A salad luncheon will be served at noon with donations going to the Heartland Church Women United College Scholarship Fund.

Lemon Grove Congregational United Church of Christ is located at 2515 Imperial ave.

The Christian Faith Centre is located in the El Cortez Hotel, 7th and Ash streets, downtown.

Leaders From VLM Church Meet Friday

A workshop for congregational leaders of the Vista La Mesa Christian Church will be held this weekend in Yucaipa. The workshop is scheduled to begin tomorrow.

"Educare," title of the program, is a three day conference for church school teachers, planners for educational ministry, youth leaders, CWF/CMF leaders, and the general leadership of the church. The conference features Dennis Benson, editor of Recycle, as well as "Educare" leaders from throughout the country.

Registration fees for the workshop are $40 and may be made with Pastor Ron Nowlin at Vista La Mesa Christian Church, 4210 Massachusetts ave., La Mesa, or by calling him at 463-9909.

New Radio Program Aimed at Children

'Sonshine Clubhouse', a captivating new Christian radio program for children, may be heard by young San Diegans each weekend on KSON and KLRO.

The 15 minute non-demoninational program is currently being produced in San Diego by Pat Bradley. The show's aim is to reach children, especially those not exposed to Church or a Christian home, with the Gospel and Biblical teachings.

Fun-to-sing songs and an exciting Bible story, (with personal application of the story's teachings), are the key features of each program. The 'Sonshine Promise' (Bible verse) and 'Sonshine Hand' (the Gospel) are included in the format, along with a personal invitation to each child to ask Jesus into his life.

Special programs, interesting guests, and a surprise or two are also featured from time to time; and the children are encouraged to write in with questions or things to share.

'Sonshine Clubhouse' can be heard every Saturday at 8:30 a.m. and again at 4:00 p.m. on KLRO, 95 FM; and each Sunday morning at 6:30, on KSON 1240.

Special Night for Youth Tomorrow Night in IB

Tomorrow night at the Family Life Crusade currently underway at the First Baptist Church in Imperial Beach will be a special youth program highlighting dating practices and ideals.

The general theme of the crusade has been the disintegration of the family and its causes. It opened last Saturday at the church, 1220 Elm ave.

Dr. Robert L. Hawkins, Pastor of the church said the reason for this crusade was to deliver messages to families to deal with their problems.

"Family life is disintegrating for numerous reasons," said the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, "A major cause is the failure of husbands and wives to understand their roles within the family as God has designed them."

Lemon Grove Man To Become Deputy

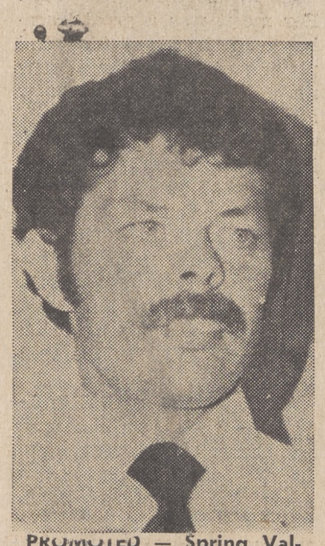
New officer Deputy Sheriff Earl A. Courtney of Lemon Grove is among the 21 students graduating from the Sheriff's Academy tomorrow at 4 p.m. in a ceremony at the Masonic Temple, 1895 Camino del Rio S.

The school is operated by Sheriff John Duffy as a regional law enforcement academy at Miramar College. Graduates include students from the Sheriff's Department, the Oceanside, Carlsbad and National City police departments, the Municipal Marshal's office, San Diego Harbor Police, the U.S. Marine Corps and three civilians not connected with law enforcement.

The graduates, who began the course January 14, will receive 18 college units from Miramar College.

Recognized as one of the nation's leading law enforcement academies, students are taught such subjects as patrol procedures, traffic control, community relations, investigative techniques, arrest and control techniques, weaponry, and first aid and rescue.

Judge William T. Low of the San Diego Superior Court will be the keynote speaker.



PROMOTED — Spring Valley Fire Protection Fire Specialist Rick Sherard, 30, was promoted to the rank of Inspector last month, it was announced by Fire Capt. Daryel Stager.
Sherard has been with the S.V. Department 5 years and has an AA Degree in Fire Science.

Goodwill to Mark 75th Anniversary

Eugene Morrill, Executive Director of Goodwill Industries of San Diego County, announced that Goodwill will celebrate its 75th anniversary of the founding of Goodwill in America.

"During our diamond jubilee year, we plan to increase substantially our efforts to help the handicapped people of this area help themselves," Morrill said.

Edgar Helms, a minister from Boston founded the first Goodwill in 1902. And from that small beginning, an international network of 161 U.S. organizations and foreign affiliates in 17 countries has grown up.

The common goal of the Goodwill network is to improve the quality of life for people who are handicapped —not only the physically disabled, but the retarded, the socially disadvantaged, the emotially disturbed, and many others.

Allen J. Sutherland, President of S.D. Goodwill Industries, explains Goodwill's mission: "We want to make it possible for all these people to live full and meaningful lives. We want to return welfare recipients into productive workers capable of supporting themselves. We want to show them that a handicap doesn't have to be the end — that they can make a valuable contribution to society in spite of it."

To achieve these goals, Goodwill offers evaluation and training programs, vocational testing, counseling, guidance, work experience, job placement services, and — perhaps most important — encouragement and understanding.

Teen Art Featured

Teen age artists of San Diego County have an opportunity to present their finest works in public during the 88th annual S. Cal. Expo at Del Mar, June 21-July 4.

Art Superintendent J. Milford Ellison said artists 13 through 19 years of age are eligible to enter one painting in the "Art Expo".

Art work must be delivered to the exhibition area in the turf club of the Expo's grandstand. It will be accepted Thursday, May 26, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Friday, May 27, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Saturday, May 28, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A jury of two teen age artists and an art education instructor will be responsible for selecting entries for hanging.

Media acceptable for entry includes oil, watercolor, tempera, acrylic, collage, chalk, pastel, graphics, prints, drawings in all media, mixed media, wood, clay, metal assemblages, stitchery, batik, weaving, macrame and other media. These will be divided into four major divisions.

Awards of $10 for first and $5 for second, and third place ribbons will be made to works in each division which merit awards, Ellison said.

Rates Go Up For Moving Furniture

The cost of moving your furniture is going up by rate increases allowed by California Public Utilities Commission.

The PUC has granted moving and storage companies to increase rates six per cent for moves longer than 50 miles and an average of 7.8 per cent in hourly rates for local moves.

The new rates will bring in an estimated $8 million to the moving and storage industry.

Owners Sought For 45 Estates

SACRAMENTO—State Controller Kenneth Cory today reported that the proceeds from liquidation of 549 unclaimed estates with a total value of $713,705 were received by his office during the months of January, February and March, and are being held in safekeeping for the rightful owners.

"The principal goal of our efforts in administering this property is to restore it to the legal owners," Cory said. "Inquiries should be directed to State Controller, Division of Unclaimed Property, P.O. Box 1019, Sacramento 95805."

The State becomes owner of estates still unclaimed five years after being turned over to the Controller. On March 31, the Controller was in custody of an accumulation of 11,824 estates valued at $11,302,846 and still subject to claim.

San Diego County accounted for 45 of the estates recieved during the three months. Estates received from San Diego County and valued at more than $1,000 are:

Padres Longest (15) Homestand To Close With Twin-Bill Sunday

The San Diego Padres find themselves heading into a "feast or famine" situation as the club is winding down its longest homestand of the season and at the same time bracing for the second longest road trip of the year.

The Padres, three-quarters of the way through a lengthy 15-game homestand with four different opponents, will be wrapping up a four-game series with the Philadelphia Phillies tonight at 7 at San Diego Stadium. Then, the club will close things out by hosting the Montreal Expos in four games in three days. The Padres and Expos will clash Friday at 7 p.m. and then follow with a Saturday 6 p.m. contest and complete the stand with a Sunday doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m.

After the Montreal series, the Padres will be saying farewell to San Diego Stadium for a considerable time as the club heads out for 12 straight road affairs. The trip is San Diego's second longest of the year with the longest being 14 games beginning later in May.

In fact, the two road trips are back-to-back affairs as the Padres will go from one stretch of playing 21 of the first 32 games at home, to playing 26 of the next 33 encounters on the road.

Monday Off-Day

As for the first road swing, the Padres will take the day off on Monday and then open the 12-game swing with May 10-11-12 games against the Mets in New York. From there, it will be on to Philadelphia May 13-14-15, Chicago May 16-17 and lastly Montreal May 19-20-21-22 for the first look at the Expos new Olympic Stadium facility.

"This is going to be a real telling time for our ball club," said manager John McNamara. "Not only are we breaking from a long homestand, but we'll find ourselves on the road for a little longer than I would like. An important factor in our favor, though, is that we start with an open date and then have another opening (May 18) in the middle of the trip.

"That should break things up nicely for us as, for one thing, the trip itself does not really involve any long hops other than the opening and closing legs. The same thing can pretty much be said for that second lengthy road swing, too," continued the Padres skipper. "The hops aren't too long and there are some open dates to break it up."

This Week's Promotions

Three promotions come up during the Padre weekend.

On Friday, the second of 11 7-Up Junior Padres Club is scheduled. Members will see the first of four Expo games in three days.

Padre Cap Night comes Friday, 50,000 Padre souvenir baseball caps will be given. They are similar in design to those worn by players. Last year, the event drew a record crowd of 50,569.

The first of two dates for Central Federal's Senior Padres club members and Longs Drugs Long Ball contest. Seniors become members after they achieve 60 and pay $3. Long Ball contest chooses 5 participants with Padre pitching coach Roger Craig doing the pitching.

Chris Everts & Co Here In Friars Sunday Fray

There is little controversy over whether Chris Evert is the world's ranking female tennis player. There might be argument whether she's even better than that.

Certainly, there will be less than a whisper of opposition within World Team Tennis, a league she dominated last year. Chris will seek to continue in that role Saturday night at 7:30 against the Friars in the Sports Arena.

"She's the class woman's player of the moment, but we aren't conceding her anything. Furthermore, we're playing the entire Phoenix team, not just Chris Evert," said Friar playing-coach Cliff Drysdale.

Often last year, the problem was that Evert was the entire Phoenix team. Her mastery in singles (winning 33 of 39 matches) was devastating. Against the Friars she was 5-1 with the San Diego girls managing only 17 games.

New Line-Up

But this is a completely revamped Friars' women's line-up — Kerry Reid, Julie Anthony and Mona Guerrant — and Phoenix may not be able to provide Evert the necessary men's support that boosted the club to so many easy wins.

The Racquets lose Tony Roche and Andrew Pattison, replacing them with Ross Case (a former Friar) and Butch Walts. It doesn't appear to be an even swap.

But more important, San Diego's Kerry Reid appears more qualified for a baseline to baseline battle with Evert than was Terry Holladay last season.

"Reid has the experience in the most competitive of situations," Drysdale points out. "She plays her best when the demand on her is the greatest."

Game Plan

The coach's design is as follows: Reid to play Evert tough avoiding a blitz, Guerrant-Anthony to hold their own —in women's doubles, Laver and Drysdale to clean up against the Phoenix men and the Reids to hold the advantage through mixed doubles.

"We had our ears pinned back so many times last year by Phoenix, I'm eagerly looking forward to our first meeting this season Saturday," Drysdale said. "It should be very satisfying."

Excellent seats still are on sale for Phoenix, which produced crowds over 5,000 with Evert on display last year. Tickets are $3.50, $5 and $7.50 and may be purchased at the Sports Arena or at Liberty and Mutual ticket outlets throughout San Diego County.

Parking at the Sports Arena is free.

Racquetball Tourney Tickets Grow Scarce

Advance ticket sales are underway, with nearly half of the total sold, for the 1977 National Racquetball Club/United States Racquetball Assn. (NRC/USRA) Pro-Am National Championships being held at San Diego's Atlas Health Club, June 4-11.

Reserved seat tickets, good for all pro matches and finals and amateur finals, are $75.

The $25 advance general admission ticket package is good for the entire tournament.

The Championships will determine the top male and female players of the 1976-77 professional racquetball tour which has had tournaments at several clubs around the country. The tour is conducted by NRC and USRA and sponsored by Leach Industries and Seamco Sporting Goods.

Tickets can be obtained by calling or writing Ken Davidson, Atlas Health Club, 901 Hotel Circle South,.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

There's no way you can get John McNamara to believe last week lasted just seven days. He just won't believe you.

"It must have lasted at least seven years," he insists. And you can't blame him. It was a week of seven straight losses. Add Sunday and and that makes it eight straight, but this is about one week.

"It's hard to look for bright spots," McNamara judged. "But Vic Bernal certainly did a good job. He was it, I guess."

Indeed he was. Vic came out of the Texas League with a losing record (5-wins, 7-losses at Amarillo) and a hefty 4.10 earned run average to bring the only semblance of order to a disasterous, week's run of real nothing.

It could be Vic Bernal is the only reason John McNamara hasn't taken a long walk off a short pier.

Vic came on in five of the week's seven losses, allowed two runs, both off home runs and just about shut the door in the faces of Los Angeles and New York. And they sweep right through town.

"Vic has great make up for a reliever," claims Padre Pitching Coach Roger Craig. "Vic has a great deal of self confidence and composure. He loves it when it gets down to one-on-one. He's really a competitor."

But the thing is in the doing. Almost all relievers have self confidence and composure. What the good ones also have is a jumping fast ball or a right angle curve ball.

Bernal is no exception. In addition to his composure, he has the tools. Truly outstanding tools. Read on.

"Vic has a really good sinking fast ball," says Roger. "He gets people chasing it into the dirt. He gets a lot of strike outs with that pitch and hitters have to look for it. And that sets them up for his slider."

Bernal's slider, it must be said, is a thing of beauty. It looks like one thing, acts like two others and causes hate and discontentment among rival managers.

"He throws it off the same motion as the fast ball," beams Roger Craig. "But it breaks funny. Like nothing any of these batters have ever seen. A lot of managers ask the umpire to look at the ball. They accuse him of throwing a "spiter." But he's not. At least, not that I know of . . . (wink) . . . it's just that his ball acts like one.

It serves the Padres well that Bernal is thought of as a 'spitter' pitcher. Any hurler would be happy with the attention. And Bernal is the sort of young man to make things look their best from his point of view. He's an illusionist. An amateur magician. One of those "now-you-see-it-and-now-you-don't types. And he's good.

Hit him with a baby blue spotlight and hear him chant to the visiting dugout. ". . . pick a bat, any bat . . . look at it . . . no holes . . . now try to hit this nice little ball. Whoosh. Strike one . . . see the ball . . . watch it do funny things. Watch it jump over your bat. Nothing up my sleeve, nothing foreign on the ball. Whooosh. Strike two. Try again. Crank it up and let it fly. Whoosh. You're out."

And he has the guts of a thief. As do almost all truly good relievers. Their calling card? High and tight.

Ron Cey was hitting the cover off the ball when Bernal was called in against him. "I remembered Garvey hitting a home run off me that was down and away," said Bernal. "It was a good pitch, but the Dodgers were hot. I figured I had to establish myself inside."

He dusted Cey back and whiffed him on three more pitches. And he did the same thing to Garvey. Those are tough back to back strike outs. Maybe the toughest in the league.

But that's when it gets exciting to Vic Bernal. He grew up five minutes from Dodger Stadium. And now he tames them.

Vic Bernal makes even last week worthwhile to John McNamara.

Pre-Season Game August 20

Chargers to Open Season vs. Bengals

The San Diego Chargers meet the Cincinnati Bengals October 2 in their first game at home during the 1977 National Football League season after beginning the schedule September 18 at Oakland against the Super Bowl XI champion Raiders.

The Pittsburgh Steelers play the Chargers December 18 in the final game of an attractive, demanding San Diego Stadium schedule that features some of the most powerful teams in pro football.

Other home games will be against New England October 16; Kansas City October 23; Denver November 13; Oakland November 20, and Cleveland December 4.

Of the teams that play here only Kansas City (5-9) won fewer than nine games in 1976.

The road schedule also includes games at Kansas City September 25; at New Orleans October 9; at Miami October 30; against Detroit in Pontiac, Michigan November 6; at Seattle November 27; and at Denver December 11.

The combined won-loss record in 1976 of the Chargers' 1977 opponents was 112 victories, 84 defeats, a percentage of .571. Kansas City, whose 1976 opponents collectively were 115-81 (.587), is the only team in the NFL faced with a more difficult schedule going into the season.

"The schedule, as far as teams we play, is pretty balanced . . . same amount of tough teams early as late." said Chargers coach Tommy Prothro. "I am certain our team is going to be improved. I hope it's improved enough."

This is the last year of the nine-year master schedule devised by the NFL in 1970 upon implementation of the merger with AFL. The purpose of the master schedule was to provide home and away games for each team against all teams. The ninth year of the master schedule is 1978, but the schedule format will be changed next year to accommodate the 16-game regular season.

3 IVA Ways with Wilt: Prexy, Player & $$$

One day in December of 1969, as Wilt Chamberlain was running along a southern California beach to strengthen his right leg after knee surgery, he spotted some young people playing volleyball.

"I had never played the game," he recalled the other day, "but it looked like the kind of sport that could help me get in shape for basketball. From that moment, I began turning on more and more to volleyball."

In 1975, when the International Volleyball Association was established, Wilt became part owner of the Southern California franchise and competed in five matches.

And on April 25, at a news conference at the Century Plaza Hotel's Bel Air Room (Wilt lives in nearby Bel Air), the 40-year-old Chamberlain announced his return to the sport's only professional league. He will be president of the league, an investor, and will play as many matches as his business schedule will permit for the Orange County Stars, and his friend, player-coach Dodge Parker.

Not bad. A man who becomes the tallest (7-1) president of any American professional sport and is wearing three hats even though he says his hat size is just 7¼.

Rehab Helped

Thinking back to 1969, Wilt reminisced. "Dr. (Robert) Kerlan, the (Los Angeles) Lakers' team physician, said it would be okay for me to play on a four-man team with Gene Selznick (a volleyball legend). He thought it would be a good way to rehabilitate my knee. It turned out to be more strenuous than he figured, but was an excellent way to strengthen the knee.

"From there, we had a four-man team that toured the United States and Canada. Then we formed a girls' team. For me it was a great learning experience coaching and playing because they knew more than me. But I knew about conditioning.

"My beach game improved. I played nine or 10 hours on the beach. I still do."

From there, Wilton discussed the possibility of forming a professional volleyball league. Several leaders in the movie and record businesses plus sports world combined to launch the IVA for the summer of 1975.

Wilt's latest switch in involvement elevates him from part-owner to president where he can pass along ideas to show the American public what a great sport it is.

Wilt is currently working out daily in preparation for the national USVBA championships to be held in Hawaii from May 10-14.

His two main goals as a player in 1977 are to help lead Orange County to the IVA title and to lead the league in attaking efficiency.

The Guinness Book of World Records, 1977 edition, doesn't have anything connecting Chamberlain with volleyball. In addition to his duly recorded basketball exploits, maybe there should be new entries such as: Tallest president of any American professional sport; tallest president of any national or international corporation; the first black president of any major league professional sport.

U.S. Moto-Cross Grand Prix Returns to Carlsbad June 19

One of America's most important off-road motorcycle races, the United States 500cc Moto-Cross Grand Prix, is scheduled for its seventh annual running at Carlsbad Raceway on June 19 and already arrangements for this World Championship race have moved into gear. For 1977 the event's long-time sponsor, the Hang Ten sportswear company are joined by the Belray Oil company, a brand leader in the motorcycle field.

Race promotor, Gavin Trippe, recently flew to Austria for the opening Grand Prix of the World Championship season and contracted a dozen of Europe's top riders to appear at the Carlsbad classic.

These include five-time World Champion, Roger De Coster of Belgium and his Suzuki team-mate (1976 Championship runner-up) Gerrit Wolsink, who will be looking fo his fourth successive win on the tough "natural terrain" Carlsbad course.

World Championship regulations allow nothing but rugged natural terrain for motorcycle. racing and Carlsbad, with its notorious 70 mph downhill plunges, is one of the toughest.

Stocking Improves Cuyamaca Fishing

Sunny spring weather warmed Lake Cuyamaca's water to 56 degrees F. and trout have been providing most of the action.

3,000 pounds of trout, was stocked in April and 4,500 pounds will be stocked in May.

Fishing is good with salmon eggs fished on the bottom. Good lures for casting and trolling have been the Z-Ray and Kastmaster.

Some bluegill have been taken by fishers in the tules south of the tackle store. Redworms have accounted for the majority of these catches. As the water warms during the month of May. bass and catfish should become more active.

Lake-use permits for adults are $2.50, and youth permits (ages 8 through 15) remain at $1. Reservations for outboard motor boats and rowboats are advisable on weekends. Call (714) 765-0515 Wednesday through Friday 6 a.m.-6 p.m.

Owners of self-contained RV rigs (vans, motor homes, travel trailers) may camp within sight of the lake. No hook-ups are available, but a sanitary dumping station is provided.

Reservations aren't needed or accepted since our past experience is that we have ample room for recreation vehicles.

Gallo Tennis Cup Set for Helix S.

Helix South Tennis Club will hold its Gallo Premium Cup Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament Saturday and Sunday for members of the club located in Spring Valley.

Another event in this popular competition will take place at Singing Hills Tennis Club on May 14, 15, 21 and 22, according to club professional Norm Timmins.

The mixed doubles tournaments are among 30 being conducted in San Diego County under joint sponsorship of E. and J. Gallo Winery and the S.D. Division of the U. S. Professional Tennis Assn.

Gallo Premium Cup events are pioneering in the field of providing sponsored competition for grass roots amateurs.

crease would not raise taxes. "They have the money. It (increases) has already been funded. They have the ability to pay but they won't cut loose from the money," said one.

All were positive about one thing: "The public's safety will not be jeopardized. The battle is with the public officers — not the public. We are sworn public servants. We'll drop reporting and investigating details to answer all emergencies. Then we'll get back to investigations," they said.

"The public will get some mighty fine reports and some extra deep investigations for a while," another said.

It is assumed that the overtime bill will skyrocket as a result. It may not change the position of supervisors, but it should make them pay more attention to the problem.

As one deputy put it, "We've been non-persons for two years. We met all the demands for justifying our need and their ability to pay. Our group even paid for a fact-finding study at their request and they then rejected it out of hand."

Anti-Rodda Initiative To Be Circulated Soon

An Initiative Constitutional Amendment will soon be launched by the Committee for Individual Rights to qualify 500,000 signatures for the June '78 ballot prohibiting forced unionization of 1.3 million public employees in California.

The initiative is a direct response to the Rodda Act (S.B. 160) encouraged and signed by Governor Brown, which permits the forced unionization of public school teachers and other school employees via union dues or agency fees.

Persons interested in signing or working toward the goals of the committee are to contact either of the two co-chairmen: Betty Cordoba, P.O. Box 403, Calabasass, Ca., 91302 or Dolly Swift, P.O. Box 7782, Van Nuys, Ca. 91409.

Cajon Speedway Records New Winner Every Week

Is it the fact that Pat McIntyre seems to give everyone a come-from-behind racing show every week?

Or is it the continued effort of Lanny Pemberton, Mike Hagerman and Ron Esau to add spice to each of the programs.

Whatever it is, the crowds continue to jam Cajon Speedway to witness the exciting battles on the 3/8-mile asphalt oval where the super stocks are the main attraction.

The fourth program of what has become one of Cajon's biggest sendoffs is scheduled for Saturday night. Qualifications for some 55 cars will begin at 6:30 with a four-lap trophy dash set for 8 p.m.

This time, in particular, there should be mounting interest because the 40-lapper will be a non-points affair. This will open competition to drivers from the L.A. and San Bernardino areas.

After three weeks there have been three different winners. Ron Esau won the opener, McIntyre the second and Pemberton won last week.

The speeds seem to increase each week, too. All trophy dash cars were in the 17-second bracket and it took :18.46 to make the 20-car main event.

And, as the speeds go up, so does the attendance and the purse.

After three shows the total attendance is 15,652, an increase of 2,582 over last year.

So far no crowd at the popular race track has dipped below the 5,000 mark.

Although the auto season has begun at several other southland locations, it is still felt that there will be an entry influx from cars and drivers outside San Diego County.

Meanwhile, McIntyre, the four-time champion from Spring Valley, continues to lead the El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. points standings with 670.

Pemberton has moved into second spot with 460 while Ron Esau who took last week to run out of town, dropped to third with 365.

Dispute Follows Loss Of 'Grossmont Tracksters

On paper, Fullerton College is credited with winning the 1977 South Coast Conference Track Finals Championship. The team point totals, which are subject to appeal, show Fullerton with 159 points and Grossmont with 150-1/4.

Controversy dominated the meet, which was held Friday at Orange Coast College. When the meet had finished, two teams believed they had won — Fullerton and Grossmont.

However, the meet's outcome hasn't yet been decided as far as Griffin coach Bob Larsen is concerned.

A last-second protest, initiated by Fullerton coach Tom Gilmer, caused the Griffins' 1,600-meter relay team, which had taken first place to put 10 points on the scoreboard for Grossmont, to be disqualified.

It wasn't for anything that the four Griffins — Demme Wilson, Scott Gillett, Craig Evins and Steve Riggins — had done during the 1,600-meter relay, but rather what Gillett and Riggins were accused of not doing in the 200-meters race.

All Out Effort

Gilmer claimed that Riggins and Gillett did not go "all-out" during the 200 race, which preceeded the 1,600. There is a NCAA rule that states that all athletes must give an all-out effort in each event in which they have qualified.

Thirty minutes after the running events had been completed, Gilmer decided to file a protest with the "Games Committee" which consisted of the seven conference head track coaches. And, by a 4-3 vote of the coaches, it was determined that Riggins and Gillette did not go "all-out" in the 200. Thus, they were not eligible to compete in the 1,600-meter relay, which cost the Griffins 10 points.

"The head official and the referee did not agree with the coaches' vote," Larnen said. "It's ridiculous to even say that Riggins and Gillett weren't going all-out. Riggins had a (200) time of :23.5 and Gillett went :23.0, and those times are close to what they've been running all season.

"Furthermore, we were behind in the meet at the time they ran the 200. So why wouldn't our guys be going all-out if we were behind?

"Anyway," Larsen continued, "Riggins was visibly sick. He and Gillett rested only 30 minutes between the 400 and the 200 races, and Riggins could hardly get off the ground to run the 200."

Breakers Sign Dunc McFarland

The San Diego Breakers have signed hitter blocker Duncan McFarland to a 1977 player contract.

McFarland starred on the 1973 San Diego State team that won the NCAA Championships in San Diego.

He played for Tucson last year in the IVA and was third in stuff blocks and fourth in kills.

"Duncan's all around abilities fit very well with the Breakers style of play for this year. We plan to have a versatile team with no weaknesses", says Coach Bill Wardrop.

"I'm happy to be back home and playing in San Diego," says McFarland.

McFarland joins Rosie Wegrich, Jay Hanseth and Player-Coach Bill Wardrop of the Breakers.

After several months of extensive scouting the Breakers are planning to sign the major remaining portions of the team this week.

The Breakers will play two exhibition games this week: Friday against Grossmont College and Saturday against S.D. Evening College.

Losing Wrestlers Must Leave Town

A grab bag of oddments is the Coliseum professional wrestling card Tuesday night.

The Guererro brothers—Armando and Chavo — meet in a no disqualification 2 of 3 falls tag match with K.O. Perez and Black Gordman.

In a 3 plus 3 plus 3 match, Tom Jones, Keith Franks and Buddy Rogers go at it with the winner being the one who gets 2 consecutive falls over one opponent.

Dr. Death and Tommy Seigler engage in a "loser leaves town" match.

And finally Tank Patton fights the Hangman. If Patton wins, previously barred Roddy Piper can return. If Hangman wins both Piper and Patton will be banned from the city.

Confusion starts at 7:30 Tuesday. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts.

Tennis Stars In Clinic and Exhibition

Four of the outstanding names in tennis will put their talents on display — and pass along a few tips to the public —at a special doubles exhibition and clinic at the S.D. Country Estates resort community Sunday.

Rod Laver, the only two-time Grand Slam champion in the history of the sport, will be joined by three of his San Diego Friar teammates, Cliff Drysdale, Kerry Reid, and Julie Anthony, on the courts of the San Vicente Tennis Ranch.

Each of the stars will discuss and demonstrate a phase of the game at the free 1 p.m. clinic, which will be followed by the mixed doubles exhibition. The event is part of special activities marking the opening of condominium models at the San Vicente Tennis Ranch, where Laver is Director of Tennis.

The Aussie Rocket, in addition to his instructional program and other activities at San Diego Country Estates, currently is one of the top stars of World Team Tennis and plans to compete at Wimbledon in June.

Drysdale, one of the world's foremost doubles players, is player-coach of the Friars. He teamed with Brian Taylor to win the U.S. Open Doubles in 1972 aat Forest Hills and has been a semi-finalist at Wimbledon.

Kerry Melville Reid joined the Friars this season from the Boston Lobsters. She is currently playing some of the best tennis of her career, coming off a championship victory in the Australian Open and moving to the sixth spot in the Grand Prix rankings.

Julie Anthony is regarded as one of the top feminine doubles stars in World Team Tennis. She is a former Canadian doubles champion and Wimbledon semi-finalist.

San Diego Country Estates is four miles east of Ramona. It is reached by Highway 67 from San Diego.

Nixon-Avans Match OK'd At Coliseum

Julio Gomez, Chile's welterweight champion won a split decision over Mike Avans Friday night at the S.D. Coliseum but he should have a recount. He won alright, but the decision should have been unanimous. In the reporters' book Gomez took 7 rounds; Avans 2 and 1 was even. Avans is Arizona state champ but has moved his home to San Diego.

As a hometowner, he will face Mike Nixon in the next card at the Coliseum, May 13. Nixon attended Friday's fight and looked lean and mean. Avans shows the result of hard training. The two veterans will put on a good show.

In other fights Friday undefeated heavyweight David Wynne, Chula Vista, poked out Paul Murray, an L.A. musician in 3 of a scheduled 5-rounder. Bert Lee, suffered his first KO in the third round of a scheduled 4-round junior lightweight scrap at the hands of Greg Stephens of L.A. who was in his first pro fight.

Heavyweight Rick Mills put the whammy on Kelly Perkins in the 3rd round of a 4-round outing and lightweight Norman Sweeney decked Buddha Brooks at 1:14 of the 3rd round of a 6-rounder.

In addition to the Nixon-Avans match May 13, three 6-rounders plus an amateur scrap is scheduled.

Heavyweights Randy Clark mixes with Fili Moaha of Samoa; Middleweights Leni Vanisi fights Rasolio Castro and jr. midleweights Dave Lopez fights Marv Saunders.

The gong rings at 8:15.

Hollywood Fla Buys Mariners

The management of the S.D. Mariners announced this week that the franchise had been sold to Hollywood, Florida interests headed by Jerry Saperstein.

Ballard Smith, general manager of the Mariners said that local support wasn't sufficient to encourage continuation of the team's operation.

Neither had an agreement been reached with Peter Graham, Sports Arena landlord.

He also indicated that the offer made by Saperstein was unusually satisfactory.

State-Fullerton Baseball Series For Leadership

Two of the better baseball teams in the nation will clash this weekend when S.D. State U. and Fullerton State meet in a crucial three game S. Cal. Baseball Assn. series.

The Aztecs host Fullerton Friday at 2:30 p.m. in a single game and on Saturday the teams meet in Fullerton for a 1 p.m. doubleheader.

San Diego State with a 41-10-1 overall mark (not including games with Cal Poly, Pomona and Dominguez Hills) leads the SCBA by half a game over Fullerton State, with Los Angeles State in third two games back.

The Aztecs meet L.A. State in a doubleheader on Wednesday, at 2 p.m. at Smith Field in a makeup of an earlier rainout.

Trustees Named For Hayes' Fund

A trust fund has been established for the injured football player, Kip Hayes.

Hayes was injured last year in a high school game while playing for Mt. Miguel.

He is still hospitalized, paralyzed from the neck down. His rehabilitation will be slow and costly, it was said.

Various groups and organizations have been involved in fund-raising for Hayes and the account now stands at $70,000 according to Frank Shughrue, one of the trustees. Shughrue was manager of the California First Bank in Lemon Grove for many years and is now the banking group's regional manager.

Shughrue said the trust was established "for the sole and exclusive benefit of Kip Hayes. Funds would pay or apply to the expense of medical treatment, hospitalization, rehabilitation and education of Hayes."

Serving with Shughrue are Elizabeth Schroeder, head nurse at E.C. Valley hospital where Hayes was taken when the injury occurred, (He is now at Grossmont) and Dr. Robert L. Plye, principal of Mt. Miguel High school.

Food, Dances, Speeches

Lemon Grove to Mark Cinco de Mayo Tonight

A Cinco de Mayo celebration, sponsored by the Community School program and Golden Ave. PTA will be held tonight 6-9 o'clock at the Golden ave. School auditorium.

The ceremony will commemorate the 115th anniversary of the Battle of Puebla when approximately 2,000 Mexican peasants defeated 6,000 French troops.

It is one of the high celebrations of the Mexican-American community and is generally accompanied by speeches, food, entertainment and dancing.

The significance of the day is that it proves that adversity can be overcome if the cause is right, according to Jose Urible, director of the Lemon Grove Community Schools program. He is associated with the Golden Avenue school.

Mrs. Elsa Hanning, Golden Ave. School principal, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Approximately 50 parents and teachers worked at putting the program together.

Local Owners Get it Again; Property Values Raised Here

Lemon Grove, Casa de Oro and Spring Valley are among 31 communities in the unincorporated area of San Diego County to have been reassessed for the current year.

According to E. C. Williams, county assessor, notices are being sent to property owners informing them of increases in the market value of their property.

The notices of increases were not restricted to county areas, he noted, 25 city communities also got the bad news.

An initial mailing of 60,000 have been mailed with 380,000 to be mailed in segments until the middle of June.

According to Williams, "Approximately 380,000 assessment increase notices will be received by San Diego County property owners as a result of this year's reappraisal program. That's approximately 73% of the 520,000 land parcels in the county."

The notification card contains instructions for the property owner who wishes to obtain additional information about the increase in property value.

"The inflationary pressures on property values and building materials and the limited construction of new homes with increased demand, have combined to generate ever-increasing market values which are reflected in this year's assessment increase notices," Williams concluded.

Wheels-Meals Expands Food Service Here

Starting at noon on Monday, Meals-On-Wheels will extend its Heartland Division services to Spring Valley and Lemon Grove and also add new routes in the El Cajon area.

Meals will be prepared at the Monte Vista Retirement Lodge for Spring Valley and Lemon Grove clients and at Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital for El Cajon.

Meals-On-Wheels, a program of Senior Adult Services, delivers nourishing food, five days a week to all who are eligible.

In addition to a reguiar diet, special diets are available if required.

These include low sodium, diabetic and bland diets. Telephone numbers are 464-8953 for Spring Valley and Lemon Grove or 462-9606 for El Cajon.

He joined the Marine Corps in July 1976.

Plea Bargaining Ban in State Bill

Plea bargaining in criminal cases in California would be prohibited under a bill approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee 5-2.

Senator Dennis E. Carpenter, author of the bill, said he wants to "get the bargain-basement, 'let's-make-a-deal' atmosphere out of the criminal justice system."

The bill, SB 295, would prohibit judges and district attorneys from negotiating with persons charged with a crime until a finding guilt or innocence has been made for that crime.

Plea bargaining, or more accurately sentence bargaining, occurs when judge, district attorney, defense attorney and defendant meet in the judge's chambers and agree that the defendant will plead guilty to a lesser and often unrelated crime in exchange for a less severe sentence.

The historic justification for plea bargaining is that it prevents clogging of the courts, an assumption refuted by witnesses and statistics presented at the committee hearing.

Terry Knoepp's Record

Terry Knoepp, U. S. Attorney for the Southern District of California, testified his office eliminated sentence bargaining for all federal crimes in mid-October, 1975. The only exceptions were those cases involving cooperating government witnesses. In more than a year of no plea bargaining experience, the percentage of guilty pleas and cases going to trial have remained virtually unchanged from the same periods over the past four years.

Senator Carpenter said "Cases with sufficient evidence to ensure conviction rarely need to go to trial to resolve a question of guilt. Defense attorneys know that most judges give more lenient sentences when a defendant pleads guilty because that criminal is already demonstrating his own rehabilitation and repentance."

"Sentencing should be the function of the judge," Carpenter continued. "Defense and prosecuting attorneys operating under the pressures of business and financial consideration are in poor position to determine a just sentence."

"Victims of crime, their friends and the general public do not understand plea bargaining. The victim thinks 'Here's a guy who robbed me at gun-point and he's being allowed to plead guilty and be sentenced for illegally carrying a firearm'," Dennis Carpenter continued.

"The victim and the public does not understand this. They feel the system is unjust."

Most opponents of SB 295 cited fear of increased costs in the justice system. Carpenter responded, "Do we have a price on justice?"

Circus Vargas Big Top Rises in Mission Valley

Circus Vargas, one of the last old fashioned three-ring circuses left in this country will be setting up in Mission Valley Center with performances scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. next Thursday night.

Letters To The Editor

Unrewarding Awards

This communication was sent to the County Board of Supervisors by Andrew M. Nossal, a sheriff's deputy who lives in Spring Valley.

For several years he operated a billiard parlor in Lemon Grove and became well-known locally as a businessman of good repute.

His accompanying note with this letter to us said that he had "very strong feelings" about the sometimes penurious attitude of the county board of supervisors.

Here is his letter:

Dear Board:

Recently I completed 15 years of continuous loyal service to the County of San Diego. During this 15 year period, I have watched friends and neighbors working in private enterprise, progress at a somewhat faster rate than I did (i.e. higher wages, better house, better car, recreational equipment, etc.), but I had something they did not have, job security and an employer that provided me with benefits and moral support. This moral support (even though it doesn't help pay the bills) came in the form of a lapel pin and framed certificate thanking me for 5 years of loyal service. At 10 years another lapel pin and framed certificate expressing the thanks of the elected representatives of the county.

In my 15th year, my employer was still providing benefits, although at a somewhat reduced rate, and I was due for my 15 year award. The morning of the ceremony arrived and 16 employees of our department gathered. One employee had 25 years and had never taken a day of sick leave. Five of us had 15 years and the remaining 9 employees were to be awarded for 10 years. This represents 190 years of loyal service to the County of San Diego.

Economy Drive

Our boss took the podium and his first statement was, "I am ashamed to give you these awards." He added that the county was presented engaged in an economy drive ,i.e. cutting corners wherever possible to save the taxpayer's money. He then displayed the awards we were to receive: a 6" x 8" white sheet with block printing "County of San Diego, California, Award for Service" with our names typewritten thereon and the number of years, 25, 15, or 10 accordingly. This rather plain piece of paper was mounted on a 9" x 12" piece of felt poster board. (I later found out that our boss's secretary had to obtain some of the mounting material from the county, as they had sent several of the awards over without bothering to mount them.) That was the entire award.

Now you members of the Board may feel this is a petty complaint, but your reasoning in this type of economy strikes me as being patently ridiculous. The past cost of presenting an award is approximately $4.80, which included a framed certificate and a tie tack or lapel pin.

I realize the economy drive you are presently embarked upon (i.e. our Department received no increase in wages and an extremely small increase in benefits for fiscal 76-77), and appreciate the fact that some board members vetoed a pay raise for themselves. All this was in the interest of economy and savings for the taxpayers of our county, however, the minute expense incurred by the county with regard to service awards compared to the expenditures by your board for certain items, does not indicate a valid "savings."

Not Affordable?

You may well not be able to afford the recent increase in medical fringe benefit costs. You may well not be able to afford salary increases for your employees to keep them in line with the ever-increasing cost of living. These things may very well be prohibited by the limitations of your budget.

I note in a recent fact finding report, however, that the county has never denied the ability to grant our Department's request for a reasonable increase in pay which would have put us just under the increase in the cost of living.

By your actions, you are telling approximately 13,000 county employees that their loyal service is not even worth a $4.80 show of appreciation by awarding them a decent service award.

In that regard, and as a form of protest, I am herewith returning my 15 year service award to you. Perhaps you can use an ink eradicator to erase my name and save the paper and blue cardboard to help facilitate the furtherance of your economy drive.

Sincerely,
Andrew M. Nossal

Crime Drops During 1976, Report Shows

The new U.S. Attorney General has released 1976 crime figures which show decreases in violent crime but increases in larceny-theft.

Attorney General Griffin B. Bell said from preliminary annual figures of the FBI's Crime Index, murder and robbery were down ten per cent, aggravated assault dropped one per cent, and forcible rape showed no change.

Motor vehicle theft was down six per cent and burglaries decreased five per cent but the larceny-theft group of which both are included increased one per cent during 1976.

"This report is an encouraging sign for the criminal justice system and for the public," Bell said, "But we must not ease our efforts in this struggle because the incidence of crime still remains for too high."

FBI director Clarence M. Kelley also was optimistic about the new figures.

"There is firm ground for hope in the easing of nationwide crime during the past year," Kelley said, "I firmly believe that while our data is only preliminary at this point, the more thoughtful approaches that are being applied to crime and the more positive public attitude toward this grave social problem are now joining to deter the criminality that has flourished to long in our society."

Bill Would Sunlight Judges' Decisions

Newton R. Russell
Twenty-First Senatorial District
California Legislature
Senate

Dear Editor:

As you know, the crime problem is causing serious concern among the citizens of California. This concern is being reflected in a variety of ways, with the polls showing overwhelming support for reinstitution of the death penalty and other steps to crack down on criminals.

However, there is another related area that creates a great deal of frustration among voters — judicial elections. We presently ask our citizens to periodically reelect judges, but ask them to do so in a vacuum.

Many of our citizens believe that our courts are turning criminals loose on reduced verdicts, acquittals, or unwarranted grants of probation, but have no independent means of knowing if the judges they are being asked to reelect year after year are responsible for this most vexing problem.

That's why I've introduced SB 195, the Judges' Open Record Act. This bill would require that any time a judge in a felony case accepts a plea or decides on a sentence, the judge who takes this action shall state on the record his or her reasons for the decision.

Currently, the law requires a judge who dismisses a case in furtherance of justice to state the reasons in the court minutes, but generally does not require such statements to be indexed and made public. I think it is time to let the sun shine in on judges' decisions in all felony cases. That's the only way the people are going to be able to tell what kind of sentencing is going on in our courts.

Senator, 21st District
Sincerely,
Newton R. Russell

(P.S. SB 195 is scheduled to be heard by the Senate Judiciary Committee on Tuesday, May 10.)

that's the maximum. If traffic is moving faster, get in the slow lane and keep within 55 miles an hour. You won't be cited for impeding. Not only that, those who go around are spotlighted.

The law of averages catches up with those who ignore the speed limit."

Tailgaters Pose Problems

"Motorists are often plagued by those who crawl up behind requiring you to speed, may move pull off the road until the tailgater passes. He often shows his distaste for your 55 MPH speed by some obscenity or other show of anger.

"Do not be trapped into anger and exceeding the speed," Officer Martin says. The irritated speeder is headed for citation and chances are pretty good that he'll get it within an hour."

"My guess is that some have decided the 55 mph limit is something you can take or leave.

"It isn't. It's a law. With tickets and fines and all the rest. There's just no way to get around it."

CHP says 8½ million gallons of gasoline a day would be saved if everyone respected the 55 mph law.

9,400 fewer people were killed on the highways in 1975 than in 1973 when speed limits were above 55.

A lot of people think it's a pretty law because a lot have slowed down.

Best advice is to stick to the legal limit and do not let an angry driver force you into exceeding it.

Tax Board To Set Up Office In Mesa For Seniors' Claims

The director of Senior Citizens Programs for the California Franchise Tax Board will be available in La Mesa May 20 to help elderly homeowners and renters with property tax or rent assistance claims.

A temporary office will be set up at the Adult Recreational Center, 8450 La Mesa blvd. between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. to assist seniors. Both homeowners and renters will be eligible this year for refunds.

Homeowners may qualify for these refunds on their 1976-77 property tax if they have been California residents since January 1, 1977, own their own homes between July 1 of 1976 and June 30, 1977, be 62 years of age as of the first of January of 1977, and have a household income of $1,000 or less.

For renters to be eligible for refunds on portions of their rent, they must have occupied a rented residence between July 1, 1976 and June 30, 1977, be 62 years or older as of the first of this year, and have a 1976 household income of not more than $5,000.

Donald Whitney, the director of the senior citizens programs who will man the La Mesa office said the refunds are based on income.

"Homeowners may be entitled to reimbursement of from four to 96 per cent of property taxes, and renters may receive refunds of from $9 to $211," Whitney said.

The deadline for filing is August 31 but senior citizens are encouraged to file early.

March Jobs Raise

The California unemployment rate in March was 8 per cent or 836.000 people, the State's Employment Development Department reported last week, as compared to 831,000 in February and 967,500 in March 1976.

Jobs opened in the wholesale trade which recorded a March high of 493,500; services set a new record for the second month with 1,668,800 employees . Government, retail trade, finance, manufacturing and construction also showed net gains in employment.

Transportation employment figures even reached the highest level for any March. Only agriculture had a lower employment rate in March than in March of 1976.

PUC Asks Users To Cut Back On Electricity

LOS ANGELES—The State Public Utilities Commission is asking Californians to reduce electrical consumption on a voluntary basis "substantially below" the amount used in 1976.

The PUC called for voluntary conservation because the state faces a "potential energy load shortage statewide during the coming summer season."

Due to the drought, hydroelectric generating capacities have decreased sharply making the voluntary conservation measures to avert brown-outs.

The PUC also noted those electric user who have stayed within lifeline consumption quantities have not had their rates increased since January of 1976.

Fed. Blue Collar Wage Cuts Eyed

A House subcommittee will hold a San Diego hearing July 6 on praposals that will have a direct bearing on the future pay scales of the estimated 12,000 federal blue collar workers in the San Diego area.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Chula Vista, is making arrangements for the visit by the Subcommittee on Compensation and Employee benefits.

"San Diego has more blue collar employees than any other place in California so it is only logical and fitting that the subcommittee come here to gauge the impact of these upcoming decisions," Van Deerlin said.

Unlike the nation-wide pay scales applied to federal white collar employees, pay of blue collar workers is pegged to the prevailing rates paid for similar work by local private industries.

Nationally, there are some 480,000 federal workers in the blue collar category. Under proposals first made by President Ford and endorsed by President Carter, potential employee income would generally be cut by 8 to 12 per cent. Resulting savings could amount to $160 million a year, if all recommendations are adopted.

Proposed changes include eliminating or reducing the five blue collar pay steps, cutting extra pay of night work and excluding consideration of wage scales from one area when computing scales in another area.

At least five subcommittee members are expected for the San Diego hearing, site of which is still to be selected. Rep. Gladys N. Spellman, D-Md., is subcommittee chairman.

Ron McCluskey is subcommittee staff dirctor and counsel. He may be reached at 201-225-6831, or write him care of the Subcommittee on Compensation and Employee Benefits, Washington, D.C. 20515.

State Takes Record $1 Billion in March

SACRAMENTO — Cash receipts into the State General Fund hit an all-time high during March and for the first time have exceeded $1 billion a month for two consecutive months, State Controller Kenneth Cory reported.

"This unprecedented flow of cash has pushed the revenue receipts total for the first three-quarters of the fiscal year well past budget estimates which were revised upward only three months ago," Cory said.

Receipts during March totaled $1,144,066,286 after having reached $1,115,928,550 in February. This brought the 1976-77 nine-month total to $7,808,453,917 which is $295.8 million or 3.9 per cent ahead of the estimates.

"This is the time of the year when revenues ordinarily accelerate and begin to overtake expenditures," Cory said. "But there never before has been anything to compare with what has happened in the past two months."

Cory said most of the increased income results from the impact that generally improved economic conditions and inflation have had on tax revenue sources.

"Particularly indicative of this impact are the bank and corporation taxes which are 30.55 per cent ahead of last year, insurance company taxes which have gained 25.21 per cent, personal income taxes which are 22.86 per cent ahead of 1975-76, and the sales tax revenues which are up 13.20 per cent," Cory said.

Mock Small Claims Court Held May 18

A mock small claims court will be on agenda next Wednesday at the Neighborhood House, 841 S. 41st street, during a program presented by Judge Richard Hanscom of the Municipal Court of San Diego.

The program, entitled "Small Claims Court is Easier than You Think", features Judge Hanscom, attorneys Michael Goodman and Robert Freeman. The trio will explain how the court works and then conduct the mock trial.

Joyce Wilkerson, an attorney with Legal Aid plus Clerks of the San Diego Small Claims Court will be on hand to answer questions.

The program is co-sponsored by the city Community Relations Department and the San Diego County Bar Association.

The collection belonging to John and Margaret Hill is shown on the West Coast for the first time. Admission is free.

1,300 Expected to Participate

Senior Citizens in Rally

More than 3,000 people are expected at the biggest and most popular activity of the year for senior citizens — the 15th Annual Rally Day Friday at the El Cortez Hotel in San Diego.

Anticipation of a much larger crowd than last year made it necessary to move to the more spacious Century Ballroom, which has the added advantage of being on the first floor of the hotel.

Although activities are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 3 p.m., everyone is urged to get there as early as possible to have more time to view more than 40 exhibits and displays about agencies and services available for seniors.

Rally Day is one of many county-wide projects of the Committee on Programming for Seniors (COMPS). Special COMPS sub-committees, consisting of professional leaders from centers and agencies all over the county have been working for weeks in a variety of ways to bring to the stage many of the mayors and civic officials, the presidents of more than 180 senior citizens clubs throughout the county, the Kings and Queens of the many clubs and centers, live entertainment from the Senior Talent Contest just completed, music for dancing, awards presentations and a variety of other events.

Bob Crosby, popular entertainer with senior citizens of this area, will serve as M.C.

Free shuttle bus service is being provided to help in moving people back and forth to El Cortez Hotel from downtown areas and from parking areas in Balboa Park. Pick up points will be (1) at the parking area behind the Federal Building in Balboa Park; at 7th and Broadway; and at 5th and "A" street. Shuttle service will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through 3:30 p.m. A banner, "Rally Day Express" will be on special buses.

Free coffee and cookies will be available at noon. Although there are many restaurants in the area, they may not be able to handle the crowd. A sack lunch is suggested.

Major sponsor for this year's Rally Day is Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Home Federal's sponsorship includes providing the hotel ball room facilities, shuttle bus transportation, trophies for the talent contest and in various other ways. A great many additional savings and loan associations, banks and other business firms are assisting in many ways. These will be acknowledged in the official program and in other ways.

More than 60 door prizes of various kinds have been donated by business people of the city and county. Among these are several $25 starter savings accounts at savings and loan assns., tickets to many events, boxes of candy and other things.

All seniors can take advantage of a virtually cost free day of entertainment and involvement.

RV DEALER OF YEAR — Frank Pierson, right, owner of Camperland Inc. in Lemon Grove, received top honors as Recreational Vehicle Dealer of the Year from Fleetwood Enterprises, the nation's number one RV builder. Fleetwood's Elden Smith, VP-RV Group presents the award which is based upon dollar purchases of Fleetwood RV products.

3-Years Probation Given Loose Dog Law Violator

A County dog owner appeared in San Diego Municipal Court to face charges of disturbing the peace brought by the County of San Diego's Department of Animal Control at the request of two neighbors.

A trial by jury was conducted at the request of the defendant. Neighbors and County Animal Control Officers testified that the defendant's dogs often ran at large and, on at least two occasions, entered the plaintiff's yard, attacked and killed their chickens.

The defendant was found guilty of the charges brought against him. Judge Robert Cooney delayed imposition of sentencing and placed the defendant on probation for a period of three years on condition that he violate no animal control laws, make restitution to the plaintiff for the loss of 12 chickens, and within four weeks submit to the court evidence that he has disposed of the dogs or has provided an enclosure that will guarantee the restraint of the dogs. The premises are to be inspected by an Animal Control Officer, who is to report back to the Court within four weeks.

The County Department of Animal Control has stepped up the enforcement of all aspects of the County's leash law and the prosecution of repeat violations in all areas under its jurisdiction, according to Encil Rains, department director.

Rains anticipates that the stepped-up enforcement will have a positive effect on pet owners by making them aware of the need for responsible ownership thus decreasing the numbers of animals killed on streets and highways, the damage created by free roaming pets, and the numbers of animals destroyed at local animal shelters due to overpopulation caused by indiscriminate breeding.

Dictionary Hill Development Eyed On 207 Acres

The County of San Diego has received a supplement to an environmental impact report (EIR) for a proposed project known as Dictionary Hill in Spring Valley.

The project involves a 316 lot large scale project on 207.5 acres to be developed as a planned residential development, with 25 acres as a standard subdivision located east of Grand ave. and south of Montemar in La Presa.

The project has a 15 day public review period. The supplement is available for review only at the County's Environmental Analysis Division, 9150 Chesapeake dr., San Diego; the Ecology Center, 340 Kalmia st., San Diego; and the El Cajon and Lemon Grove branches of the County library.

The supplement may also be reviewed at the Spring Valley Library, 1043 Elkleton blvd., and the Casa de Oro Library, 9628 Campo rd.

Comments on this supplement must be submitted in writing to the Environmental Analysis Division by May 6, 1977. The Environmental Review Board meeting is tentatively scheduled for May 12.

The Environmental Review Board meeting agenda may be obtained by calling 565-3927.
